

SEASHORE BASEBALL LEAGUE

PAGE 2

MANAGER Rodney Kemp of the Carteret Tides will send right-hander Rick Heal to the mound against the Western Blues Sunday down Highway 24 in Bogue. Andy Raynor will catch Heal's breaking specialties. Raynor has one of the strongest and most accurate arms in the league. Then the Tides are counting heavily on all-southpaw first-baseman Philip Moran, a power hitter of legendary proportions at West Carteret High and in other Morehead diamond programs. Even here 30-year-old Chuck Lewis will challenge the 25-year-old Moran's prowess. Lewis, too, hits with awesome power. Donnie Aycock's Newport Red Sox should battle the Eastern Blues and the Tides all the way. Power-hitting Tom Mann, a strong-armed giant of a 6-1 208-pound hoiler guy, heads an all-star outfield. The Red Sox also have quite a one-man gang in David (Ting) Waldroff. He's 24, stands 6-5, weighs 230, won 5 and lost 2 as a pitcher in '74 and doubles as a catcher.

Manager Otis Pittman will see that his Braves keep life interesting in Sunday's opener with the Eastern Blues in the picturesque Salter Path park. He has two right-hand hurlers, Jarvis Guthrie and Jerry Pittman, primed for the champs. Guthrie won 3 and lost 0 last year. Jerry Pittman pitched against the Perry brothers, Gaylord and Jim, some years back in the State Playoffs. Ronnie Willis, who hammered 12 home runs last year, gives the Braves their secret weapon at first base.

Right-hander Alton, 26, a first-year man, will pitch for Manager John Tootle's Western Blues at Bogue. Monroe Johnson, fleet centerfielder, hopes to repeat as home run king of the league. Connell Johnson, exciting new first baseman, will catch your eye as the life of the team.

Manager Joe Lawrence may very well have the surprise team in the league when he sends John LaChance to the mound for the Beaufort Sea Dogs against the visiting Newport Red Sox. In the best tradition of the Sea Dogs, Lawrence has pirated two crack outfielders from last year's champion Eastern Blues. Tony Hancock will lead off and play center field, while Sterling Hancock will patrol right field.
