

Seashore League Teams to Play

High School, Turnage twice defeated Mike Caldwell, now the left-handed mainstay of the San Francisco Giants, in memorable 3-A Conference duels with Tarboro.

MAYBE YOU'VE read that they're trying to retire future Hall of Famer Bob Gibson from the St. Louis Cardinals. This long lean right-hander, age 39, could be speaking of Jack Daughtrey when Bob defends himself: "If I was a young kid, they'd look at my stuff right now and say I was one whale of a prospect."

THAT'S THE WAY it is with Daughtrey, who gave the Eastern Blues the battle of their lives last Sunday. He's the standout right arm of the Braves in more ways than one. He cools the hot-heads in the tightest of jams.

He pitches with head and heart and years of experience. He keeps fit at 6-4, 200 pounds by jogging. He still swings the same authoritative bat that led the Southern Conference in hitting as a Washington and Lee All-Star in 1957.

Then, of course, you can never forget Donnie Aycock's Red Sox, who stand ready to repel the invasion of the Western Blues in Newport's Broad Creek home. Donnie has some mighty strong right arms in Bruce Maness and Jay Garner to pitch Sunday against the visitors from Bogie.

THE WESTERN Blues? They present the enigma of the Seashore League. They led the Carteret Tides, 8-0, last week in the second inning; then lost a turbulent nightmare, 25-9.

John Turnage pitched like a Daughtrey in surviving those error-filled first two innings to go the distance, strike out 12 and yield eight hits.

So it's Daughtrey vs. Turnage, Swinson Park, Sunday. 'Nuff said?
