Eastern Blues Big Firework

By STURGIS HEDRICK

ROCKETING glistering white baseballs into outer space, the Eastern Blues hope to celebrate the Fourth of July by making their rival Roxboro Blues see red. "Don't fire until you see the white of his eyes," Chief Tactician Wilson Davis instructed his fired-up Downeast Minutemen. "Then shock their pitcher with the Shot Heard 'Round the World."

Blues will be playing their home fans and themselves heard... authority. Roxboro is only the birthplace of legendary Enos (Cous) Slaughter, now base coach of Duke University. But the perennial Cou Boy also hand-picked the Roxboro Blues and managed them in person until a year or so back.

BLUE IS beautiful. But it's a sight to make strong men weep when they sing the Blues. That, alas, will be the situation sometime tomorrow night.

Because our Carteret County Eastern Blues will square off against the Person County Roxboro Blues at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow in the opening round of the National Baseball Congress Eastern North Carolina Regionals.

THE UNDEFEATED defending champions of the Seashore League could hardly have drawn a tougher opponent for the first round of this double-elimination tournament.

After all, the Roxboro

THESE STATE Regionals differ from the Seashore League in qualifications. The Seashore requires residence in Carteret County for eligibility. The Regionals not. Some entries doubtless will present all-star rosters recruited from several counties. Many teams "load up" for this championship which can take the winner to the World Series of amateur baseball in Wichita, Kan.

Hats off to Manager Wilson Davis and the Eastern Blues. They are firm believers in themselves and will go with the team that has swept through to 26 straight victories in their undefeated march to the 1974 pennant and the 1975 lead in the two-year history of the Seashore.
