DURHAM BULLS NOSE OUT BURLINGTON OUTFIT 7 TO 5

Pete Hall's Single In Fifth Inning Provides Tying And Winning Runs

With Crabtree and Veasey hurling steady ball, the Durham Bulls nosed out the Tower Hosiery mill nine from Burlington at El Toro park last night, 7-5.

The locals started things off with a bang, accounting for four runs in the initial inning. The visitors, however, came right back in the third with three tallies and forged ahead, 5 to 4, in their half of the fifth with a two-run splurge.

HALL SHINES

Pete Hall, Bull catcher, singled in the last half of the fifth frame to knock in the tying and winning runs and finally scored on Williams' safety to gain a two-run margin.

Hitting safely three times in five trips of the plate, Williams was the bat star for Durham. Sorrell, E. Hall and C. Hall were outstanding with the bat for the losers.

PLAY TOMORROW

The Durham Bulls will go to High Point for an engagement tomorrow, it was announced.

Bear Brunt Work This Year

Jenkins, Belue, Hawkins And Duffey All Throw From Left Side—Tim McKeithan Will Be Main Righthander This Year

Four southpaws and a righthander form Coach Jack Coombs' pitching staff at Duke university for the coming baseball season. Three of the southpaws are veterans. The other two hurlers are sophomores.

Belue, Jenkins and Hawkins, the veterans, are seniors. They are all lefthanded. Jenkins was credited with much of Duke's success in southern conference baseball last spring. Belue reached the high mark of the season here last year when he hurled a no-hit game against Wofford.

Lee Hawkins, the other veteran southpaw, had trouble during his sophomore and junior years in controlling his curves. As he is a heavy hitter he was shifted to an outfield berth and only pitched on off days. This summer, however, he is said to have regained his lost control and to be ready now for a complete rating as a hurler.

Horace Duffey, southpaw, and Tim McKeithan, righthander, are the sophomore hurlers. They were members of the Duke freshman team last year which annexed the state freshman championship. Both are being closely tutored by Coach Coombs for regular hurling days on the varsity.

Because of the length of the 27-game schedule it is likely that Coach Coombs will shift his batteries from day to day. He has five catchers, Captain Warren, Barker, Allford, Howell and Rochelle, who are slated to do all the receiving.

HAWKINS HURLS CRAMERTON WIN

Special to The Charlotte Observer

ALBEMARLE, N. C., July 25.—Lee Hawkins, Duke University ball heaver, held Badin's slugging ball aggregation to four lone bingles here yesterday. Cramerton turned back the boys from the Aluminum City 7 to 4.

Hurler, Badin twirler, did a nice piece of slap work himself but ragged support on the part of his team mates coupled with timely hitting by Hawkins and Hinson for the winners brought about his downfall.

Cramerton will lock horns with Spindale Friday and Loray is billed for a contest Saturday.

National Munitions In Win Over Erwin Outfit

The National Munitions Co. of Carrboro worked the age-old squeeze play in the ninth inning yesterday afternoon to nose out Erwin Auditorium, 8 to 7, on the Carrboro diamond.

Lee Hawkins of Erwin, led the batters for the day with four hits in four trips to the platter.

Duke Rally in 9th Inning Defeats Villanova, 3 to 2

Kistler's Two-Bagger Breaks Up Keen Pitching Duel

Special to the Herald Tribune

VILLANOVA, Pa., April 30.—Rallying in the ninth inning, Duke University today defeated Villanova, 3 to 2. Jack Coombs's Blue Devils were held to two hits by pitcher George Hanzik until the ninth, but won out on Hawkins's single, a force by Adams, Werber's single and Kistler's two-bagger.

Hanzik and Hawkins engaged in a keen pitching duel, the former allowing five hits and the latter four.
