Seashore League AUS 14, 1975 (Continued from Pg. 3-A)

called his shot and thrilled his family with an awesome circuit clout.

CRAIG WEBER, Salter Path Brave terror who can do it all, will occupy the spotlight in Beaufort this Sunday. Somewhat recovered from this torn rib cartilage, Craig can make all the difference against the host Sea Dogs.

Craig can't wait to regain his base-stealing lead. He has 20, despite too much inactivity because of injuries. Weber or Ronnie Willis, hitting .405, will catch George Viereck's southpaw slants on Sunday.

AND ALL THE Braves have been rehearsing tom-tombeat accompaniment. Salter Path Manager Otis Pittman promises to unveil his own special war dance when the Braves clinch a playoff berth.

Meanwhile, way yonder in Smyrna, the idle Eastern Blues will stage a bicentennial exhibition Sunday at 2 p.m. Manager Wilson Davis promises no mercy when the Blues face the Grays, those grand elder statesmen from Down East.

NOSTALGIA? ..

Wilson refuses to acknowledge any sentimental weakness in his Sunday approach.

"Our terms are Unconditional Surrender. When a team goes out there wearing enemy uniforms, we're out to beat them," says the gruff big bear of the Blues.

Anyone for "Auld Lang Syne"?
