

Seashore League

mystery-ball hurler Durward (The Wood) Winston, Lefty George Mettrick and big Wally Waldroff.

Rodney Kemp has the simpler choice. He'll pitch whichever hurler who admits to better health, George Gilbert or John Turnage. Both have been suffering from aches and pains. Rodney has other possibilities: catcher Andy Raynor or third-baseman Wayne Mobley. Can the canny Mr. Kemp afford to remove Raynor or Mobley from their more familiar positions?

ONE THING is certain. Last week's ouster of the Blues created an entirely new fan interest. After these invincibles of Wilson Davis had won 33 in a row over 2 seasons, the fans of Carteret County were ready for some fresh new heroes.

This revived interest is certain to show itself in Sunday's Swinson classic. Call it curiosity or whatever, the fans plan on attending in droves just to see for themselves these new heroes of 1975.

ONE PARTING note. The great moment of any baseball team arrives when they see that championship pennant hoisted to the center-field flag pole.

How about it, merchants? Let's make that more than a dream and plant an adequate flag pole in the park of the winners, with Old Glory topping the North Carolina State Flag and then a bright pennant that reads: "1975 Champions, Seashore League Baseball."
