Dear Baseball Friends

Regret very much that I cannot be with you today. Wish I could see many of my old baseball friends, of whom some I have not seen in over 50 yrs. Due to an important prior schedule which I tried to change but too late to cancel we were not able to make today's wats. We think of you often and wish we could play the game of yesterday together.

Many of my illustrations, while preaching and some of my sermon titles come from days of boyhood along the N.C. coast. Sometimes I get homesick while sitting here in my Church office and in my mind we play several games of yesterday's. So as you play today someone steal second for me and don't forget no errors.

May God bless all

Howard Pittman
