

Will Have McQuaid Back

Will Also Serve School as Physical Education, Athletic Director

Thomas McQuaid, Beaufort's famed basketball coach, will remain at Beaufort school next school year as basketball coach, physical education and athletic director.

This announcement was made yesterday by B. E. Tarkington, principal.

Mr. Tarkington said that Mr. McQuaid will receive a thousand dollars to compensate him for coaching and the two additional duties, that of athletic director and physical education coordinator.

As basketball coach, Mr. McQuaid was receiving $350 a year. At the close of the recent basketball season, he announced that he could not continue in that position at that salary and stated that he would take another position in the county next year, that of distributing textbooks to the various schools.

Mr. McQuaid said that the coach's new supplement will come from private sources, through the athletic Booster Club, which will be formally organized at 8 at the school tonight.

The school board of trustees will administer athletic funds it receives through the new organization.

Mr. Tarkington said, "I believe that Coach McQuaid's experience and his past services warrant an increase in salary." Not only will the coach direct the school's athletic program and coach basketball, he will supervise physical education activities of children in grades below high school level.
