

Game 7

Seashore League

innings in the best game of the day at Salter Path.

ANDY RAYNOR, Carteret's new pitching ace, struck out 13 and yielded 5 hits in out-dueling Lefty George Viereck of the Braves. Both hurlers went all the way and only errors spelled the difference between victory and defeat.

The Tides now have won 6 and lost 1.

BUT Wilson Davis' Eastern Blues cake-walked to a 14-0 triumph over the salty Sea Dogs at Beaufort. The Blues hammered out 15 hits to 5 for the Dogs against the combined pitching of Richard Arthur, Dallas Wayne Arthur and George Zurenko.

"Muscles" Kenny Lewis boosted his plate average to .467 with 4-for-4, including a double that would have been a home run anywhere but in the wide open spaces of the Beaufort field.

Manager Davis even practiced some inside baseball with the Downeasters' first suicide squeeze. It scored Lewis and Milton Scott when Manley Gaskill laid down such a nifty bunt toward first that the fielding throw hit him and permitted the bonus second score.

And guess who gets the next chance to stop the defending champion Eastern Blues? Donnie Aycock's red-hot Red Sox, right in the Smyrna pine shade of the Gung-Ho Downeasters.
