Eastern All-Stars Gain Triumph, 7-3, Over West Team

After Holt stole second, Jimmy Hodges of Havelock singled to bring in the West's first run. Hodges also stole second, and when Willis threw the ball into center field, Hodges took third. Neil Garner of Newport then stroled and pilfered second, after which Steve Olkowski of Newport safetied to bring in both runners.

In conquering the West team, the Eastern hurlers struck out a total of 16 batters. Webb fanned six, Willis three, and Johnson seven.

Only five Eastern All-Stars went out via the strikeout route.

Hawkins Leads Eastern Team To 7-3 Win in All-Star Contest

The Eastern All-Stars, comprised of players from Morehead City, Beaufort, Harker's Island-Straits, and Marshallberg, defeated the West team, 7-3, in the Tidewater League all-star game held at Beaufort Wednesday afternoon. On the West team were players from Swansboro, Jacksonville, Newport, and Havelock.

Chiefly responsible for the East's victory was the booming bat of Lefty Hawkins, star first baseman for Harkers Island-Straits. Hawkins had three hits in four times at bat and batted in five Eastern tallies with a single, double, and home run.

Another standout offensively for the East team was Ben Hester of Beaufort, who batted 3-for-5, including a double and two singles.

Pitching for the East team were Jim Webb of Morehead City, Moe Willis of Harkers Island-Straits, and Stanley Johnson of Beaufort, each of whom did three-inning stints. Webb started and received credit for the win.

The starting and losing pitcher for the West team was Fred Taylor of Havelock. He was followed on the mound by Melvin Aycock of Newport, Floyd Williams of Jacksonville, and Arthur (Pappy) Diem of Swansboro.

The East team broke the scoring ice with a run in the first inning. Elvin Davis of Marshallberg walked and stole second base. A few seconds later, Hawkins brought him in with a single.

The East added two more in the third inning. With two strikes on him, Webb singled into centerfield, and an error by centerfielder Charlie Odum, of Swansboro, in handling the ball allowed Webb to take second. Hester doubled him in and Hawkins followed with another double to make the score 3-0.

Singles by Myron (Ace) Harris and Billy Davis, both of Marshallberg, and another hit by Ray Hassell of Beaufort brought in another run in the sixth inning and made the score 4-0 in the East's favor.

The East's offensive was climaxed with a three-run outburst in the seventh frame. Hester singled and Dave Yeomans of Harkers Island-Straits hit a home run via a miscue by shortstop Bill Holt of Swansboro. With the West's defense shifted to the right for a left-handed batter, Hawkins then sent a long, high blast into left field, going for a home run and scoring three tallies before it could be recovered.

In the meantime, the West had been thoroughly tamed by the three Eastern hurlers for the first seven frames. They had been allotted only three hits, all off starter Webb. Willis no hit the West-erners for three frames, and Johnson duplicated this treatment in the seventh.

After striking out Williams to start the eighth, Johnson also fanned Holt, but backstop Johnny Willis of Marshallberg dropped the
