Three Carteret County nines will see action today. Scheduled to play this afternoon, weather permitting, are Atlantic, Smyrna, and Queen Street.

Atlantic and Smyrna will meet on the Atlantic field to play the rained out game of March 26. Atlantic has a record of 0-2 and Smyrna's record is 1-1.

Tommy Salter is scheduled to get mound chores for the Atlantic Nine while either Roy Styron or Jimmy Lewis will go to the hill for Smyrna.

Queen Street will travel to Wilmington to play a rained out game scheduled earlier in the season. Either Edward Godette, Henry Fenner, or Bernard Carter will be slated for hurling duty.

Tomorrow the Knights will return home for a game with Jacksonville. The Knights previously defeated the Jacksonville club 6-5.

Morehead City High will be idle until Friday when it hosts Pamlico County on the Eagles' home field.

Cal Duplissey, the winning hurler, fanned 13 Smyrna sluggers, giving up two walks, six runs and seven hits.

Swansboro opened the game with three runs in the home half of the first only to see Smyrna tie it up in the top of the second.
