

Newport Defeats, Ties Beaufort Nine, 4-1, 10-10

Newport defeated Beaufort, Saturday at Newport by a 4-1 score, and the two teams, meeting again Sunday at Beaufort, came to a standstill, 10-10, at the end of nine innings of a game ended by the 6 p.m. Sunday curfew.

In Saturday's contest, Mears pitched for Newport and allowed five safeties. DiChiara was his receiver. Johnson pitched for Beaufort and Butler was his target.

DiChiara and Lockey led the Newport attack with two hits apiece. Hooper, with 2-for-4, sparked the Beaufort offensive.

Aycock started for Newport Sunday, but had to be relieved by Elbert Garner in the third frame and Hill in the ninth. DiChiara caught this one also. Gravitt, relieved by Allen in the third, did Beaufort's hurling. Butler caught.

Newport broke the scoring ice with a run in the first inning. June Haskett reached first on the shortstop's error and took second on an infield out. A single by Wallace Hill brought in Haskett.

Beaufort scored two in the second. Boyd took first an error by the Newport shortstop and took second on Benton's single. An error by the third baseman allowed Boyd to tally and Benton to take third, from whence he scored later on Hooper's fly to left.

Five runs came in to count for Newport in the third. Lockey singled and Hill banged out a home run. A single by Olkowski, two errors, and a triple by DiChiara accounted for the other three markers in the inning.

Beaufort, however, kept plugging away with two more in the latter half of the same inning to make the score 6-4. Base hits by Butler and Benton, sandwiching a walk to Boyd and followed by a double by Verbanic, were responsible for this two-run outburst.

There was no further scoring until Beaufort came within a run of Newport by tallying a lone marker in the sixth. This was done on Allen's double, an infield out, and a single by Ray Hassell.

Newport made it 9-5 with three in the next frame. June Haskett opened the fireworks by homering into rightfield. A single by Hill and another homer by Olkowski gave Newport a seemingly comfortable lead.

Newport concluded its scoring by adding another in the eighth. Neil Garner singled and took second on a wild pitch. A base-knock by Elbert Garner brought in the runner.

Trailing by five runs, Beaufort closed up the gap by scoring four in bottom half of the same stanza. Base hits by Allen, Hester, Butler, Boyd, and pinch-hitter Collier-Hill did the trick in this big inning.

Beaufort managed to score one run in the last of the ninth to knot the score. Hooper reached first on an error and was sacrificed to second by Ricks. After Hooper took third on a wild pitch, a pinch-hit single by Charle Hassell brought in the runner with the tying run to the wild ecstasy of the cheering fans.

After the inning was ended, however, the game had to be called because of the 6 p.m. Sunday baseball ruling.
