AC Falls Again

'The Hitless Ones'

Atlantic Christian College's baseball Bulldogs are rapidly being tagged "The Hitless Ones."

Coach Jim Pfohl's club, which has failed to score more than four runs in a game and has gotten off to a 1-5 start, dropped their third straight battle here Saturday, getting only three hits in a 6-1 Carolinas Conference setback to High Point.

Guilford Here

AC, 0-2 in conference games, gets a chance to redeem itself at Fleming Stadium Tuesday when Guilford's Quakes come to town. Right-hander Wade Johnson, who pitched AC's only win with a four-hitter against nonconference St. Andrews, will hurl for the Bulldogs.

The poor hitting of the Bulldogs, who cracked 10 hits and scored four runs in their biggest game but still lost to Campbell 6-4, is a mystery to Pfohl.

"In batting practice and in the games," said the third-year

AC baseball coach: "we've hit the ball well. But we're not getting any hits. It's a simple fact: if we want to improve our 1-5 record we've got to start getting hits."

Lone Victory

In AC's lone victory, the Bulldogs whipped St. Andrews 2-1 despite getting only a pair of singles.

While AC's hitters were nothing little against hard-throwing High Point right-hander Forrest Dover, High Point caught the Bulldogs' Ronnie Johnson on another off-day and pounded out 12 hits, including three doubles all in the fifth inning.

The loss was Ronnie Johnson's second. He has failed to win, despite a fine nine-inning performance against Wilmington in which the Bulldogs lost 2-1 in 10 innings.

AC Lead

AC took a 1-0 lead against the Panthers, 10-1, when catcher Joe Willis slammed a run-scoring double in the third inning. However, after that the Bulldogs could only managed harmless singles by right field Rick Arrington and center fielder Watt Moore.

Johnson, who had been in trouble all afternoon, finally lost his luck in fifth inning when High Point rapped out four straight hits and took a 2-1 lead. High Point went ahead 4-1 in the sixth and then killed AC's comeback hopes with two more runs in the ninth.

Nick Perlozzo had three of High Point's hits, driving in three runs. Everybody but Dover had a hit for the Panthers.
