

Four County Teams to See Action in Sunday's Games

Smyrna-Harkers Island, working on a four-game winning streak, will invade Atlantic Sunday afternoon. Atlantic is leading the league with a 15-1 record. Other action in the county baseball league will pit the Coast Guard and Salter Path at Salter Path.

Smyrna-HI manager Mack Pigott plans to start the first game on the mound against Atlantic. He uses a knuckle ball that could give the long ball hitters of Atlantic a rough afternoon.

The only pitcher in the league to beat Atlantic, however, is Charles Braxton of the Coast Guard. He held the league leaders to four hits and one unearned run using a drop and curve ball.

Pigott will have Laurie Willis, Roy Styron and Jamie Lewis warmed up for possible relief duty and will pick a starter for the second game from those three.

Atlantic will go along with Thomas Salter and Butch Saunders. Salter, a lefty, has won nine games without a loss. Saunders has a 6-1 pitching record.

The Coast Guard-Salter Path games shape up as a pair of top-notch battles. Coast Guard manager James Hunnings will start Braxton and Clyde Owens against the second place team. Owens, who has been out all season with a cut wrist, is a favorite of county fans.

Salter Path, after dropping a pair to Atlantic Sunday, should be on the rebound and really dangerous.
