

COASTAL GREYS

The Coastal Greys in their second year of Seashore League competition are experiencing growing pains to date on the playing field. Their major strength is the fine organization which the club is built on. Their playing talent this season has been brilliant at times and also dismal. This inconsistency, particularly in the crucial pitching slot, has proved to be their major problem area. However, organization and potential is very evident and their presence makes the Greys a tournament sleeper for certain.

POLLOCKSVILLE BEARS

The Pollocksville Bears bring a 20-4 record into the tournament, and powerful bats that are likely to open up the skies around Swinson Park. This team, which plays independent ball, has always featured great hitting in their five years of existence. The Bears, consisting mostly of ballplayers from Jones County, also list really strong pitching as one of their major strengths. Surely the Bears are rated one of the top entries in the tourney.
