

#2C Friends James Webb – Harry Salter (Catcher) 1940s Morehead

Harry Salter – 1948

James Webb – 1948

- ❖ James said, “He would not have been able to accomplish any of the things he did without his friend Harry Salter.
- ❖ Harry was a great pitching catcher with great defensive skills.
- ❖ Webb said, “Today, if I could physically pitch, I would run to the field to play anyone if I could get the likes of Harry Salter, Lefty Sharpe, Julius Moore and the defensive players we had in 1949.”
- ❖ The friendship that Harry and James established, would last for a lifetime.
- ❖ Webb said, “Harry was a great strategist and friend, and for that, I am forever grateful.”
- ❖ “By working together, they became all they could be in baseball, they were two local Morehead boys doing what they loved, playing ball for their Town Team, and in the process became ‘Morehead Town Heroes’ said Joe (Boy) Willis.
